Project

Product Management

16 Feb - 30 Jun 2023

The "Merdeka Kampus" (MSIB) campus activity that I participated in at Binar Academy involves a final project collaborated with UI/UX. As a result, the output produced is a health tech-themed application that focuses on the health of pets.

- Defining the problem to understand the core issues we need to address
 - Developing a prioritization framework helps us determine the most important tasks to focus on
 - User stories provide valuable insights into the needs and expectations of our users
 - Setting key objective results ensures we have clear goals and measurable outcomes
 - Creating comprehensive test case scenarios helps ensure the robustness of the application
 - Summarizing all the important project details into the final document
 - Outlining project specifications and features into the Product Requirements Document (PRD)
