Education

2022 - Present | STMIK Bandung | Information Systems Study Program

This major prepares students to have abilities in scientific fields, namely computer science, management, and business. So what I learned from this study program is how to utilize computer science and technology to support business needs. Such as Business Systems Analyst, UI/UX Design, Product Management, Digital Marketing, Web Development, Data processing, programming, and also learning about data processing, programming, and creating ERD, PRD, SRS, etc. Practice making workflow diagrams, use cases, and business process models. From here I was able to find my passion. Excited to learn more about this either academically or non-academically by myself.

2017 - 2021 (4 years program) | SMKN 1 Cimahi | Department of Film & Television Program
Production (Broadcasting)

Script Writer, Director, Photo/Videographer, Editor/Design Graphic, Producer, Wardrobe/Stylist

In this department, I study mass media content production, television broadcasts, audio-visual-based film production, and project-based learning. My experience in the creative field while I was in vocational school with a 4 year program included: creating graphic design, film/content, photo & video editing, photography, videography, short films, product advertisements/promotional videos, etc. From here I like creating designs that are useful for a business, organization, etc, I also like creating concepts for work in the form of products/services and coordinating with the team.
